S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS NAME LAVALLEE TO ACT AS VICE PRINCIPAL AT TELSTAR

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 named Timothy Lavallee to serve as acting vice principal at Telstar Regional High School effective Feb. 1. Daniel Hannon was named acting chairman of the Physical Education Department at Telstar during the time Mr. Lavallee is serving as acting vice principal.

Robert J. Gerardi, superintendent, reported that a combined Transportation and Policy Committee meeting was held on Jan. 15. Recommendations for changes in policy are to be made at the next regular meeting of the board. Mr. Gerardi also noted that Richard McCann, of the Telstar faculty, had returned from his week's visitation with the Boston Vice Squad concerning drug abuse, and will report at an early meeting.

Also approved at the Monday evening meeting in Andover was a request of Capt. Linwood Allen of Co. D, 262nd Engineering Battalion of the National Guard, at Norway. Capt. Allen requested that Telstar Regional High School be designated as an alternate assembly area for the Norway unit. This means that in case of an emergency, or test alert, or if facilities of the Norway Armory were not available to be used, the Telstar grounds would be used as an assembly area.

Three students presently enrolled at Telstar as post graduate students were formally approved for the 1970-71 school year.

The board went into executive session to discuss matters pertinent to the 1971 budget. The session included discussion with district elementary and secondary supervisors concerning requests of their interest areas.

Members of the board not present Monday evening were: Mrs. Joan Wiese, Bethel; Bernard Brooks, Greenwood; and Robert Davis and Paul Wight, Newry.

The next regular meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board will be held at 7:30 on Monday evening, Feb. 1, at Telstar Regional High School.

LATE-NIGHT BLAZE DESTROYS STRUCTURE AT SUNDAY RIVER

A fire of undermined origin reportedly destroyed a T-bar drive terminal hut on the slope at Sunday River Skiway late Sunday night. According to the skiway director, Joseph Omeunder, he was notified of the blaze shortly after midnight by a member of the U. S. Army Special Forces, who are training at the skiway.

The machinery, which operates the T-bar to the upper slopes of the mountain, was termed a total loss with damages estimated at $13,000. Some parts were salvaged following the fire and repairs are now in progress with a reopening of the upper slopes set for Friday, Jan. 29. In the interim the skiway is continuing to operate.

All planned skiway events are continuing, including the Mel Jodrey Trophy Race scheduled for this week end.

TELSTAR SKIERS WIN OVER HEBRON IN WEEK END MEET

Telstar Regional High School won four places in Friday's jumping at Bethel and went on to defeat Hebron Academy, 392.91 to 359.13, in a ski meet that had its final three events at Hebron on Saturday.

Jim Haskell of Telstar won the slalom with a single run time of 31.7 while Steve LePage of Hebron won the giant slalom with two runs of 75.2. Rex Cummings, Telstar, scored 149.1 points to win the jumping and Peter Blake toured the five-mile cross-country course in 29:42 to win that event for Telstar.

LOCAL CANDIDATES MUST FILE ON OR BEFORE FEB. 8

Maine statutes state that all nomination petitions must be in the hands of the Town Clerk on or before the 21st day next prior to the day of election. In towns with a population of 4,000 or less petitions must be signed by at least 25, and not more than 75 eligible voters.

"Remember how Jesus washed the feet of the disciples and told us to do the same?" D. T. Niles says that the Christian Church often misses the mark because "we Christians would rather give a service than be a servant." The servant identifies with the person he is serving and is willing to be a subordinate. There is a vast difference between this and merely bringing another a service he needs."—Bruce Larson

AS FIRE GUTTED the home of Kent Stanley on the Middle Intervale Road, Saturday afternoon.

Massachusetts and was upset by Boothbay, Dirigo stopped Carrabec, Rangeley dumped North Haven but was downed by Vinalhaven. Mt. Abram collected from Forest Hills, Goulds was defeated by Fryburg, Wisconsin clobbered Richmond, Enskine won over Boothbay, and Buckfield slipped past Christian. Those were most of the Western Maine D games that were played last week.

Game of the Week: No. 1 Stevens Academy took on No. 2 Washington Academy, for a major game in Eastern Maine D action, last Saturday night. The game was the second contest between the two rivals and was played at Washington Academy. It turned out to be a real screamer with Washington Academy coming out on top, 71-70! The Raiders of W. A. led in the first period, were down by five in the second, but led again at the half 37-33. They went on to maintain their lead until the final buzzer. David Dennison put on a dazzling display for the Raiders with 33 points, 17 rebounds, and 7 blocked shots. Greg Harmon and Kenny Albee paced behind with 13 each. Wardwell led the losers with 23, and was followed closely by Bert with 18. W. A. is now No. 1 in Eastern Maine Class D.

Player Profile: David Dennison, 6' 2 1/2" forward, Washington Academy Raiders. This boy is one of the best men I've ever seen. A good dribbler with some pretty clever moves, he can connect from just about anywhere on that court. As a defensive player he dominates the boards on both ends. His long, powerful arms have deftly stuffed many a basketball down unsuspecting throats. He is a major reason for W. A.'s position in Eastern Maine D this year.

60,000 MAINE PRE-SCHOOLERS IMMUNIZED AGAINST GERMAN MEASLES

An estimated 60,000 pre-school children in Maine may not yet be immunized against German Measles, stated Dr. O. Thomas Feagin, Director of the Division of Communicable Disease Control of the Department of Health and Welfare. "This represents approximately two-thirds of the pre-school population in Maine," Dr. Feagin said.

The Department is again urging parents of pre-school children to have these children immunized at either a local clinic or by their private physician. To further encourage the immunization of pre-schoolers, Dr. Feagin said, the Department is expanding its vaccine distribution policy so that private physicians may receive State vaccine for administration to pre-schoolers. In the near future, the Department will notify physicians of the procedures for obtaining vaccine. Dr. Feagin mentioned that additional Federally-supplied vaccine accounts for the relaxation of this policy and stated that the relaxed policy will remain in effect pending continued supplies.

German Measles—an infectious disease which can cause birth defects in unborn children if contracted by pregnant women—occurs in epidemic proportions every 6 to 9 years. The last epidemic year was in 1964 and is expected to peak again shortly if German Measles vaccine is not widely received. Dr. Feagin mentioned that the Department has immunized approximately 100,000 school children, however, pre-schoolers must also be immunized to prevent another epidemic.

The course provides training in the operations and tactics of the Army's Air Defense Weapons Systems. Instruction also is included in nuclear weapons and communications, supply and maintenance procedures, and Air Defense Field Exercises.

Lt. Brooks is a 1969 graduate of Gould Academy. A member of Delta Psi Epsilon fraternity, he received his B. A. degree in 1970 from St. Mary's College.

"OPERATION HEART"

Those Who Deny Despite Major Evidence
While shoveling snow, a chest pain began to grip the large, rawboned mill worker. "Indigestion again," he thought.

The 59-year-old, who smoked four packs of cigarettes a day, decided to ignore the pain, thinking it would disappear.

Four days later it had grown much worse. He still would have ignored it had not his wife summoned an ambulance. The man entered the hospital with his heart massively damaged from a heart attack.

He is what cardiologists classify as a major denier—someone who despite overwhelming evidence denies to himself that he is having a heart attack.

Recent studies show that a large percentage of patients who reach the hospital after an attack had recognized their own symptoms. Such patients tended to get there quickly.

Another large percentage, however, denied to themselves that their symptoms arose from their hearts. These people came to the hospital because someone else recognized the symptoms.

"If you happen to have your heart attack at your place of business or in the presence of a policeman," a Rumford Community Hospital spokesman said, "you are fortunate because then it is more likely your own employer or the policeman will make certain that you get immediate medical attention."

The Rumford hospital is cooperating with the Maine Heart and Maine Hospital Association in a statewide information campaign this month to make Maine people more aware of heart attack indications.

The "Journal of the American Medical Association" recently carried this statement after a study of 32 heart-attack patients: "In the acute phase of a myocardial infarction, one cannot help but wonder, on the basis of this study, how many patients die simply because they have no one available to correct their mistaken thoughts."

For major deniers, the help of an insistent employer, business associate, friend, or family member thus becomes critical.

In another article—in the "American Journal of Cardiology"—two cardiologists said: "For the largest number of patients who denied they were having a heart attack, a family member made the decision to seek medical aid. Spouses seemed to be less successful in reducing delay than friends or associates. The most influential person in reducing delay in our series was an unrelated friend or stranger who was not associated with the patient's work. . . . In a number of instances it was an insistent employer who literally ordered the patient to the hospital."

"Patients who recognized the true source of their trouble as a heart attack came for help much sooner. The group who interpreted their symptoms simply as not coming from the heart delayed the longest, by far."

The case history of a 50-year-old shirt salesman who was awakened at night by a terrific, crushing pain in his chest is fairly typical. He blamed his pain on pickled herring he had eaten for supper and took an antacid. It was only after the "indigestion" continued unabated that his wife could persuade him to go to the hospital.

Other findings reported in the article:

The more severe the chest pain, the more quickly the patient sought help. In fact, though, the person who felt he was suffering a great deal of pain did not necessarily experience the most severe heart attack. It turned out that there was no relationship between the actual severity of the attack and the length of the delay.

Delay was relatively independent of the patient's age, sex, extent of education, history of previous heart attacks, or socioeconomic status.

If shortness of breath was a symptom, the patient tended to seek help more readily. A man who had ignored chest pains for several hours telephoned his physician when his breathing became labored.

"If it doesn't affect your breathing," the man said, "it can't be your heart."

Although sudden shortness of breath may accompany a heart attack, many attacks come without breathlessness.

Tessier Biology Club Attacks Phosphate Pollution

Recently the Biology Club became concerned with phosphate pollution of the environment. We obtained a petition from the Environmental Protection Commission on the effects of phosphate in certain commonly used detergents. Phosphates harm the environment in this way: they cause certain minute organisms to spread at their rate of reproduction. The compounds that break down the wastes are unable to contain the immense volumes of organisms. In the decaying process the plants and animals use oxygen needed by other living things such as fish. They die, adding to the load of the dead, decaying material. This settles, filling in the lakes and rivers. Consequently this harms the communities that would like to utilize their water resources.

Because we the Biology Club, feel that this is a very important issue, we are going to make available to the public, lists of the most commonly used detergents and their degrees of harmfulness. These will be obtainable in the stores of local co-operating merchants.

RUMFORD HOSPITAL BLOOD BANK TO CELEBRATE JANUARY AS DONOR MONTH

The Rumford Community Hospital Blood Bank is joining in the celebration of January as National Blood Donor Month as proclaimed by President Nixon to "pay special tribute to the voluntary blood donor and to encourage increasing numbers of people to be voluntary blood donors." The hospital's Blood Bank is a member of the American Association of Blood Banks which promotes observance of the month.

Volunteer donors here will receive special recognition during the month and efforts will be made to recruit additional volunteers for the Walking Blood Bank to meet an expected 15 percent increase in local blood needs this year. Claire Dupont, Chief Laboratory Technician, and Spil Waterhouse, Blood Bank Technician, are available evenings, Monday through Friday, to visit local clubs and organizations to explain the importance of the Walking Blood Bank and answer questions. Anyone interested in scheduling them for a visit may contact them in the hospital lab.

"January was chosen," explains Spil Waterhouse, of the hospital's Walking Blood Bank, "because it is often the most difficult time of year for blood banks. Accidents at this time increase blood needs while seasonal flu and winter vacations reduce the number of regular donors."

"If you are in good health and between 21 and 65, you can help by offering to become a donor and join the Rumford Community Hospital's Walking Blood Bank. The age limit was increased to the 65th birthday in 1969 and this has enabled several of our most faithful donors to continue."

Mrs. Waterhouse also points out that only 5% of the blood donors under 21 are women. Since women may be more readily available to donate blood, they can help ease the shortage by adding their names to the emergency list.

Rumford Community Hospital's blood bank remains one of the few in the nation offering free blood donor service. This is due to the willingness of area citizens to give free blood donations for their neighbors in times of need. Most hospitals have a service charge of $35 and up for each pint.

Community volunteers are urged to go to the hospital laboratory this month and join the Walking Blood Bank in the tradition of free service can continue.

DEADLINE FOR W-2 FORMS

The deadline for employers to give employees their 1970 W-2 forms is Monday, Feb. 1, 1971. Whitney L. Wheeler, District Director of Internal Revenue for Maine, said today.

The form should show earnings, income tax withheld and Social Security information. A copy of the W-2 from each employer has to be filed by the employee with his income tax return. Therefore, it is important that employers furnish W-2s to their employees by the date required to permit timely preparation and filing of employee's tax return.

CAMPING TO BE LIMITED IN TUCKERMAN RAVINE AREA

To save Tuckerman Ravine in the White Mountain National Forest in New Hampshire for future generations, the U. S. Forest Service finds it necessary to set limits on the numbers of people using the area. Overnight camping will be limited to the 50 spaces available in the Adirondack-type shelters, according to Robert R. Tyrrel, Forest Supervisor.

In addition, wood and charcoal fires will not be allowed. This restriction will apply to the entire Cutler River drainage west of New Hampshire Highway 16 and includes Huntington Ravine.

"This limiting of overnight camping and open fires is necessary to protect the Forest environment from further degradation," Tyrrel said. "There have been over 500 people camping in the Ravine on peak nights. The basic problem is that the soils and vegetation cannot stand that amount of use. The present tolls are being overused and the soils are such that the toilets cannot be readily expanded. There's a real danger of water pollution. The soils compact easily causing vegetation to die and erosion to begin. People collecting firewood and cutting boughs for bedding have killed many trees in the area."

Starting March 1, 1971, camping will be permitted only in the Adirondack Shelters near Hermit Lake at the base of Tuckerman Ravine by a special permit issued individually by the Appalachian Mountain Club at Pinkham Notch. A maximum of 50 people will be given permits for a particular night. No one will be permitted to stay longer than seven days at a time. A fee of $1.50 per night will be charged for camping in the shelters. This money will be used to maintain the facilities in the area.

FLOYD E. McALLISTER

He was born in Albany, Dec. 18, 1900, the son of Solon and Maude Leavitt McAllister. He attended schools in Albany and East Stoneham and was employed for many years as a board sawyer and mechanic.

Survivors include his widow, the former Sandra Durgin of East Stoneham; three sons, Leroy of Oxford, Dennis of East Stoneham and Terry of Norway; three daughters, Mrs. Sylvia Benson, Auburn, Mrs. Julia Witham, Waterville and Miss Joyce McAllister of East Stoneham; and seven grandchildren.

MRS. MARIAN HALL

Word has been received from Ellenton, Fla., of the death of Mrs. Marian Hall, a Greenwood native, on Jan. 12, 1971. Mrs. Hall was born on Sept. 3, 1895, the daughter of Walter R. and Martha Rand Swift.

Her girlhood was spent in Locke Mills and after her marriage to Burton W. Hall about 50 years ago she lived in Providence, R. I., Wilton, Minot, Auburn, and Turner, Maine, before moving to Florida four years ago. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary. She is survived by her husband of Ellenton, a sister, Mrs. Carl North of Providence, R. I., a brother, Harry M. Swift, of Locke Mills, and several nieces and nephews. Interment was in the Veterans' Cemetery in Bradenton, Fla.

In their own stove. Inexpensive, light-weight stoves are available at most camping supplies. Fire permits are still required.

Visitors to Tuckerman will be required to carry out their own trash. No longer will trash be collected in the shelter area and hauled out by the Forest Service Snow-Cat. Combined with this, the AMC will no longer sell soup, sandwiches, and similar things at the Ravine shelter. This means that everyone using Tuckerman will be carrying in his own food and beverage so it's logical he can "carry out" too.

For daytime skiers, hikers, and climbers, there will be no new restrictions. The existing ban on motor vehicles, other than for administration will continue. The Forest Service Snow Rangers will still close all or part of the area at times when avalanche or falling ice hazards exist.

Tyrrel commented, "We believe that this action will help save this back-country environment that people seek when they hike or ski Tuckerman Ravine. We hope that everyone will understand this need and cooperate with us in maintaining the area."

DEFECTIVE PARTS MAY BE REPAIRED

Anything that has moving parts should have a periodic check-up to keep it in good reliable working order. Not only will it last longer but it will be more economical to operate, will perform better, will look better and will give greater pleasure and pride to the user.

While the above facts could and do easily apply to a motor, a two-stroke, or a lawn mower, they have their most practical and logical meaning when applied to your body. Make sure all your parts are in good working order by scheduling a physical check-up. When medicines are needed to help—use them.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We recommend requests for delivery service and charge accounts.
